FOR MICHIGAN UNIVERSITIES

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The Michigan-Shiga High School Exchange is a program of the Michigan-Shiga Sister State Board, a non-profit committee that has overseen activities and exchanges between the State of Michigan and Shiga Prefecture since the sister-state relationship was established in 1968. Hundreds of Michigan high school students have traveled to Japan and hosted their Japanese friends since the exchange began in 1990, contributing to the mutual understanding and appreciation that exists between our two states and countries.

ABOUT JCMU

The Japan Center for Michigan Universities (JCMU) coordinates the Michigan-Shiga High School Exchange on behalf of the Michigan-Shiga Sister State Board. Founded in 1989 on the 20th anniversary of the Michigan-Shiga relationship, JCMU has educated thousands of students in Japanese language, culture, and various other fields of study through its diverse selection of college study abroad programs.
